

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

The following is the State Democratic platform as enunciated by the State Convention in assembly May 18th:

Resolved, 1. That the Democracy of North Carolina reaffirm the principles of the Democratic party, both State and National, and particularly favor the free coinage of silver and an increase of the currency, and the repeal of the internal revenue system. And we denounce the McKinley tariff bill as unjust to the consumers of the country, and leading to the formation of trusts, combines and monopolies which have oppressed the people; the unnecessary and burdensome increase in the tax on cotton ties and on tin, so largely used by the poorer portion of the people. We likewise denounce the iniquitous Force bill, which is not yet abandoned by the Republican party, but is being used as a measure to be adopted as soon as they gain control of the House of Representatives, the purpose and effect of which measure will be to establish a second period of reconstruction in the Southern States, to subvert the liberties of our people and in place of a new race antagonism and sectional animosities.

2. That we demand financial reform, and the enactment of laws that will remove the burdens of the people relative to the existing agricultural depression, and do full and ample justice to the farmers and laborers of our country.

3. That we demand the abolition of national banks, and the substituting of legal tender Treasury notes, issued in sufficient volume to do the business of the country on a cash system, regulating the amount needed on a per capita basis as the business interests of the country expand, and that all money issued by the government shall be legal tender in payment of debts, both public and private.

4. That we demand that Congress shall pass such laws as shall effectually prevent the dealing in futures of all agricultural and mechanical productions, provide such a stringent system of procedure in trials as shall secure prompt conviction and imposing such penalties as shall secure most perfect compliance with the law.

5. That we demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

6. That we demand the passage of laws prohibiting the alien ownership of land, and that Congress take early steps to devise some plan to obtain all lands now owned by alien and foreign syndicates; and that all lands now held by railroads and other corporations, in excess of such as is actually needed by them, be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

7. Believing in the doctrine of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none," we demand that taxation, National or State, shall not be used to build up one interest or class at the expense of another. We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all revenues, National, State or county, shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government, economically and honestly administered.

8. That Congress issue a sufficient amount of fractional paper currency to facilitate the exchange through the medium of the United States mail.

9. That the General Assembly pass such laws as will make the public school system more effective than the blessing of education may be extended to all the people of the State alike.

10. That we favor a graduated tax on incomes.

MODERATION AND SINCERITY.

The political needs of the hour are moderation and sincerity.

Extreme and passionate views and utterances do not convince; they may overthrow and conquer, but they do not convince nor win confidence. Duplicity and cunning may bring those who practice them a temporary personal advantage, but they only postpone the reckoning that they or their children must make with those who have been deluded and misled.

All civilization and free government rest upon the obligation of every citizen to all other citizens that the law shall settle disputes, and that established tribunals for settling differences shall not be interfered with in the discharge of their duties by threats and intimidation.

Who shall be Governor, or President, or Congressmen, all are small matters compared with the lawfulness, and sincerity and honesty with which we discharge our political duties to ourselves, our country and each other. And those who allow the passions and bitternesses that swayed them in August to shape their action in the November election are likely to feel regret and shame when the heat of passion has cooled.

2. In determining with which of the three parties he will act, every honest man will first ask himself which party has the highest purposes, the soundest principles, and which, if it succeeds, will be most just and fair to all the people? And in determining this, he must look to the ability, honesty and power of the respective candidates.

The People's party is led by a man too recent in his affiliation and membership with the Republican party to allow any calm, unbiased mind to conclude that his hostility to it is as great as to the other party to which he has always been an enemy. It is a party without a record, unless the far greater hostility shown by its exponents to the Democratic than to the Republican party can be called a record. Does not this suggest that its leaders set more value upon dissatisfied Democrats, if it can guile or make them its recruits, than upon Republicans? Does not this suggest the possibility that it is insincere and worked in Republican interest?

How does it stand the test of moderation? Are not the different discontented and dissatisfied labor orders and classes that make up its personnel actuated only by class interests and ends? And are not its leaders agitators who seek personal advancement by playing upon their prejudices and passions? If this question puts any man in a rage he will do well not to seek to answer it to his own lasting satisfaction until he is sure that he is cool, and in a reasoning state of mind. The Republican party represents the principles of a Federal Government growing in strength, in numbers of its officials and in its control of the States and of the people by constantly diminishing and narrowing the rights of the States and of the people, and has a leader who is an extremist in these views, with the inclination to effectuate them to the full extent of his capacity and opportunity. If this succeeds does it look bright for the safety of our liberty and that of our children?

The Democratic party recognizes the perfection and accurate adjustment of the Federal Government, the States and the people to each other, to preserve our Government strong, pure and perfect, under the faithful, fearless and honest administration of one whose proper use for four years of the highest public trust is the proudest political recollection of every fair-minded, unbiased American citizen.

The little spots and blemishes that sectional hate produces, and the little deeds of selfishness, or misconduct by scattered individual members of the Democratic party pointed out by its opponents are only evidences of the weakness and imperfection of mankind, and not of the party.

Are not the Democratic party and its leader, Cleveland, moderate and sincere? Can any man do better than to vote for them?
